

GIVE YOUR BUSINESS THE POWER OF OWNERSHIP.

THE PACKING DISTRICT IS POWERING UP.

One hundred years ago, the fruit industry built warehouses and packing plants in Kelowna's north end to handle the growing bounty being harvested from the Okanagan Valley. Steamships sailed the lake's waters and rail lines stretched to distant markets.

Orchardists, workers and business leaders found opportunity in the heart of Canada's West.

KELOWNA'S BUSINESS EVOLUTION IS BUILDING.

Today, fresh industry and lifestyle options are driving change in central Kelowna. Tech companies are discovering the benefits of the BC interior's largest urban area. Major educational infrastructure is coming online at UBC Okanagan.

Like Vancouver's Yaletown, and Toronto's Distillery District, a new hub is emerging that celebrates the industrial past and welcomes the future.

THE PACKING DISTRICT WILL BECOME KELOWNA'S NEW URBAN DESTINATION.

Flanked by cultural pioneers in the brewing and wine trade, The Packing District is primed for evolution. Young professionals, shoppers, students and innovative businesses are drawn to authentic urban industrial areas. With the amenities and recreational access of central Kelowna and this location truly has it all.

Powerhouse is right in the heart of it.

Anyone with experience will tell you that owning your own space is just smart business. The strata office ownership opportunity offers much-needed stability and growth options for local companies or field offices. Taking control of your destiny and growing your equity can build your long-term bottom line, and the ability to rent to others offers even more options. But new industrial strata opportunities are rare. Getting in on the evolution of The Packing District is an opportunity that won't last.
